

August 2025 has been a busy month for SCPC pickleballers and the fun's not over yet! Read on for a recap of the past few weeks and info on what's coming before we wrap it up at the end of September.

Recent Happenings:

The week of August 4th we were fortunate to have Tony and Janeen from JanTone offer the club's first intermediate level clinics, as well as a variety of private coaching options. The participant response was overwhelmingly positive and we all went away with a new arsenal of techniques and drills to up our skill level. Photos from the clinics and private coaching sessions are on the SCPC website.

On August 9th we celebrated National Pickleball Day with two round robin tournaments and a dinkathon. Thanks to everyone who participated to make it such a fun day and the volunteers who made it all happen. Photos of the day are on the SCPC website.

Tremendous appreciation goes to the generous community sponsors who provided so many great prizes and support. Please see the end of this newsletter for a complete list of sponsors who contributed. We encourage our members to support these organizations who so generously support us.

On August 10th our club president Becky Warrington and her husband John hosted a BBQ at their home to thank the many SCPC volunteers who make all our events throughout the year possible. Great food, people, and games, plus everybody had the opportunity to relax at a pickleball club event – a welcome change for the folks who usually run the events!
